I feel that it is a very boneheaded thing to do, to stop the instant weather and traffic info. for the truckers. My husband has been a trucker for 26 years, and has needed many times the info. on the weather in the states that he is going to. and it cost us money for him to call, me and wait for the weather channel to come up with the info. that he needs, when the xm gives him the info. when he needs it, and if there is a accident on the highway ahead of him, they let him know that also,so he can skirt around it. So I wish you would stop your childishness, and leave the truckers alone, every time the government or anyone else gets a hair cross wise they blame the truckers and it has to STOP now. Theres no excuss for this other than greed.
